Dear members, colleagues, and friends

6 September 2021

We trust this letter finds you in good health. We at EBJIS are thrilled to communicate once again that our upcoming Annual Meeting will take place in-person from 7-9 October 2021 in the beautiful city of Ljubljana.

We are very happy to announce that nearly 300 participants have already registered for the onsite meeting, and we still hope to see more.

We invite you to check the details in our congress website <https://ebjis2021.org/> and to contact us for any questions you might have to ebjisconference@cap-partner.eu

On September 1st, the EBJIS Executive Committee had an extraordinary meeting to discuss the infection control measures currently applying in Slovenia. EBJIS Local Committee Chair, Dr Marko Pokorn, communicated that at the present, indoor events (e.g., conferences) can be organized as long as participants have a Covid certificate (confirming that either you have had the disease, have been vaccinated or present a negative test).

We are aware that some members and colleagues from some countries may find it difficult to travel to Slovenia. Therefore, in response to some requests from our community asking for online participation, we will be offering online attendance, with the same vibrant programme.

We remain confident that our upcoming congress will run successfully and many of us will have the opportunity to meet again, either in presence or online, therefore we encourage you to register <https://ebjis2021.org/registration> and benefit from a rich scientific content, engaging industry symposia, and networking events.

Now is the chance to get together again in total safety and expand your knowledge beyond any boundaries. Join EBJIS 39th Annual meeting and stay tuned!

Sincerely,

EBJIS Executive Committee

Rihard Trebse, Martin McNally, Charles Vogely, Alex Soriano, Martin Clauss, Ricardo Sousa, and Marjan Wouthuyzen-Bakker
